FIRST M. E. CHURCH BUYS PIPE ORGAN

Instrument Containing 945 Speaking Pipes will be Installed by Middle of March.

ADDITION TO THE BUILDING

New Sunday School Room and Kitchen to be Built on First Floor—Work Already Started.

Construction of an addition on the north side of the building of the First M. E. church preparatory to the installation of a large pipe organ has been started and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible so that the instrument can be placed in position by the middle of next month. Several months ago it was decided to purchase an organ and at that time a committee was named to investigate the various makes and close the contract. The committee is composed of Claud Carter, chairman; L. C. Griffiths, secretary; B. F. Gillman, treasurer; R. O. Mayes, C. H. Wiethoff, G. H. Anderson, W. F. Bush, S. H. Amick and E. L. Hancock.

Excellent headway has already been made with the campaign to raise the necessary funds and those in charge of the soliciting say that a large amount has already been pledged. They declare that the congregation is in favor of purchasing an instrument and are co-operating in securing the necessary money.

The contract for the organ has been placed with the Hinners Organ Company of Pekin, Ill. This is the company that manufactured and installed the organ in the St. Ambrose Catholic church and also the German M. E. church in this city. The instrument will contain 945 speaking pipes and the power will be furnished by an electric motor.

In order to install the organ properly the committee decided that it would be necessary to build a small addition at the north side of the church and while this was being done plans were drawn to arrange for an additional Sunday School room on the first floor. The room will also be used as a kitchen. The addition on the first floor will be 16x17 feet. The second story will not be as deep as the ground floor as the plans call for only sufficient room to accommodate the organ. After it was decided to buy the organ it was found that unless an addition was built to the church it would be necessary to extend the instrument out too far over the platform and to avoid this the addition was voted.

The organ will be ready for use about the middle of March, if the present plans are carried out. Mrs. Rogers, wife of the Rev. Mr. Rogers, pastor of the Cortland M. E. church, has been engaged as the organist. She is a talented musician and for several years played the organ in one of the large churches in Louisville.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Many Enthusiastic Over Proposal That Fall Festival be Held at Same Time Here.

Much interest is manifested in the proposed plan of holding a fall festival and centennial celebration here at the same time this fall. The idea seems to prevail that due recognition should be made of the one hundredth anniversary of the county and state and that this would be an excellent opportunity to show the development in various lines during the last century.

It has been suggested that the centennial committee as a part of its celebration arrange several pageants showing advancement in agricultural and industrial lines while the festival committee could arrange for the exhibits of farm products and such attractions as may be necessary. Last fall no festival was held here as it was believed by many interested in the movement two years ago that more interest would be shown if such an event were postponed for one year.

CANDIDATES HAVE A MONTH FOR WORK

Aspirants for Congress in Fourth District, For Senator and Representative File Petitions.

SEVEN IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

N. H. Gray and E. E. Everitt Are Opponents of Senator E. P. Elsner for Renomination.

One month from today the voters will go to the polls and express their preference of the candidates who are seeking nominations on the various tickets for different offices to be voted on in the November election. The primaries will be held on March 7. Saturday was the last day for the filing of petitions and during the coming month the candidates for the nominations will devote their attention to canvassing their districts. The preliminary campaign has been waged for several weeks, however, as most of the candidates for the principal nominations announced early.

Candidates for delegates to the state conventions have until twenty days before the primary election in which to file petitions. Some have already been placed on record with the county clerk. The others will be filed in ample time as the party leaders are giving their attention to this matter to make sure that the provisions of the new law are complied with.

The list of candidates for county offices has been published in this paper. The petitions were filed before 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Saturday was also the last day for candidates for state office to file petitions. The records in the secretary of state office show that quite a number of Republicans would like to make the race for congress in the Fourth district against Lincoln Dixon, of North Vernon, the only Democratic candidate before the primaries. The complete list of candidates of all parties is as follows:

Candidates for senator and representative are also required to file with the secretary of state and the lists for this county are:

For senator: Jackson, Scott and Clark Counties—Floyd Parks (D.), Edward P. Elsner (D.), Newton H. Gray (D.), W. Emmett Everitt (R.), Noble Hays (D.).

For representative: Jackson county—Calvin E. T. Dobbins (D.), Joseph M. Robertson (D.), William Fultz (D.), Ralph F. Heller (D.), James M. Fleetwood (D.), Frank B. Butler (R.).

MR. AND MRS. C. H. AHLBRAND RETURN FROM THE SOUTH

Seymour People Meet Many Jackson and Bartholomew County Friends in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ahlbrand, who were married last month in Indianapolis, returned home Sunday afternoon after a trip through Florida. Mr. Ahlbrand is councilman from the Fourth Ward and a member of the firm of the Union Hardware Company. Before her marriage Mrs. Ahlbrand was Miss Rose Rau, daughter of Chris Rau, of this city. For some time she has been living with her uncle in Indianapolis.

While in the south Mr. Ahlbrand met quite a number of friends who live in Jackson and Bartholomew counties. At St. Petersburg he met Mr. and Mrs. C. E. T. Dobbins, of this city. While away Mr. and Mrs. Ahlbrand visited Tampa, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and other points of interest.

COMMISSIONERS IN REGULAR SESSION

Arguments Presented by Attorneys For and Against Construction of Schroer Ditch.

IN WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

Frank Hess, Highway Superintendent, Makes Informal Report Concerning Road Conditions.

Arguments concerning the construction of the proposed Schroer ditch in Washington township consumed a considerable portion of the regular session of the county commissioners today. The petition seeking the construction of the drain was filed with the commissioners several months ago and attorneys were present today to speak for and against the proposed improvement.

John H. Kamman, of this city, represented the petitioners and pointed out that the ditch as specified in the petition would be a vast benefit to the land through which it would run. The specifications call for a ditch of about a mile in length. There is some opposition to the improvement by those who would be affected by its construction and a remonstrance was filed. J. A. Cox, of Crothersville, represented the remonstrators in the hearing and argued that the cost would be greater than the benefit derived. He also declared that it would be only of benefit to a few of the landowners in that section.

After hearing the argument on the case the commissioners decided to postpone a decision until the next session.

Frank Hess, county highway superintendent, was present at the session. This was the first time that he has attended in an official capacity and reported informally as to the condition of the roads and bridges. Several reports were filed with the superintendent of bridges which had been washed away or weakened by the recent high water and also of damage which had resulted to certain sections of the gravel road.

Under the highway laws in this state the major part of the road work is left to the superintendent but in many instances he is required to report the conditions and obtain the consent of the commissioners before he is permitted to proceed with the actual work. Mr. Hess is making preparations to begin repair work on the highways as soon as the weather permits and outlined his plans in a general way to the commissioners. He has not yet made public his list of assistant superintendents who will be appointed by him in the various townships but will complete the list soon so there will be no delay when the time comes to begin the work.

BIG FOUR ENGINE PLUNGES IN RIVER

Frank Lancaster, Engineer, and Ollie Hazelton, Fireman, Drowned in Wabash.

TRAVELING MEN IN COACHES

Locomotive Goes Over 600-Yard Fill Which Was Undermined by the Flood Currents.

Vincennes, Ind., February 7.—Two trainmen were killed when the engine and tender of a Big Four passenger train running between Vincennes and St. Francisville, Ill., plunged into the Wabash river at 6 a. m. today.

The dead are: Frank Lancaster, engineer, Vincennes.

Ollie Hazelton, fireman, Mt. Carmel, Ill.

The bodies had not been recovered at 10 a. m. The train which consisted only of the engine, tender and two coaches, was slowly approaching the St. Francisville bridge over a six hundred yard fill when the fill which had been undermined by the flood waters caved in.

Men had been at work for days strengthening the fill. This is a spur off the Terre Haute division of the Big Four. Many traveling men were in the coaches. The engine lies in 10 feet of water.

MARRIAGE IS REVEALED BY LETTER MAILED IN SEYMOUR

Cupid Wins When Lawrence County Girl Leaves Home to Take Teachers' Examination.

A statement that she has been married was contained in a letter mailed in this city by Miss Ruby Tatem to her parents in Lawrence county and was the first information they had concerning the event. The Bedford Mail has the following:

On last Saturday, Miss Ruby Tatem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tatem of just north of Williams, left her home bound for Mitchell to attend a teachers' examination, her mission being ostensibly to secure a teacher's license.

On Monday she had not returned to her home, but the mails on that day brought a letter to her parents that had been mailed at Seymour, stating the news that she was married, happy as she could wish for and that by the time the letter reached them she would be traveling many miles away.

The letter did not state to whom she had given her hand in marriage and the parents, so far are at a loss to understand her actions to take this plan to outwit them; as they had no idea that she had a love affair.

Her uncle, Noble Tatem, from whom the story was learned was in the city Friday, and while the parents and relatives are not much excited over the affair, would like to know more about it.

The young lady is one of the best known, popular and esteemed young ladies in her section, and her friends and family are sure that all will be made plain and satisfactory in due time.

FIERY DEBATE ON NATIONAL DEFENSE

Veterans and New Members Take Part in Wordy Battle on Preparedness in House.

"WHAT IS IMMEDIATE NEED?"

This is Question Propounded by Jos. C. Cannon When Asked if He Was Criticizing President.

By United Press. Washington, February 7.—Fiery debate today marked the first open skirmish for preparedness in the house.

Volumes of oratory, pro and anti, on the whole national defense program was opened. Veterans and new members of the house joined in the word war. Speaker Clark left his chair to mix in, and Former Speaker Cannon took part. Clark criticized the slow, poky delay in building battleships. "Uncle Joe" took a fling at Wilson and said that if the president's assertion that an "emergency exists" there should be no delay.

A bill appropriating $600,000 to increase the battleship building capacity in the New York naval yards and one increasing the number of cadets at Annapolis were introduced.

Cannon said he was ready to increase taxes or borrow money for national defense if an emergency existed. Fitzgerald asked if Cannon was criticizing the president as shamming an emergency.

"What is the immediate need? This is the question in the minds of many men," Cannon said.

Delay in building battleships was roundly criticized on the floor by Speaker Clark when it developed that no work as yet had been started on the actual construction of dreadnoughts Nos. 43 and 44 authorized by congress one year ago.

Isn't there any way of expediting the building of battleships to supplant the slow, poky plan?" asked the speaker.

LIBRARY BOARD TO HOLD REGULAR MEETING TONIGHT

Dr. A. G. Osterman, of This City, is Named to Succeed C. S. Mercer, Who Resigned.

The regular meeting of the Library Board will be held tonight at the library building. Dr. A. G. Osterman, of this city, has been appointed a member of the board to succeed C. S. Mercer, who recently resigned.

At the meeting tonight it will be necessary to elect a president to succeed Mr. Mercer who was chosen as head of the board several weeks ago. Other matters pertaining to the management of the institution will be discussed. The members of the board are R. A. Cox, Dr. J. M. Shields, Dr. W. M. Casey, Dr. A. G. Osterman, Prof. T. A. Mott, Mrs. Oscar Carter, Mrs. J. H. Carter, Mrs. Lynn Faulconer and Miss Kate Andrews.

UNITED STATES IS FIRM IN DEMANDS

Secretary Lansing Denies That Any Change Has Been Made in This Government's Attitude.

SENSATIONAL TURN IS TAKEN

New Developments Bode Ill That President and Lansing Might Meet Compromise Offers.

By United Press. Washington, February 7.—A sensational turn was given the controversy between the United States and Germany today when Secretary Lansing declared that under Secretary Zimmerman of the German foreign office had made an "utterly false statement," if he said as quoted by a news agency dispatch that "the United States had made new demands in the Lusitania case."

In connection with the secretary's announcement was another significant episode. Lansing declared that the United States had "neither increased nor reduced" its demands regarding the Lusitania.

The flat declaration coming from the secretary of state that the United States had not reduced its demands is believed to bode ill for the German hopes that today the president and secretary might decide to meet compromise offers half way.

At the same time, however, it was announced in German quarters that the tentative proposal of Germany for the closing up of the Lusitania negotiations embody so complete a concession of the disputed point that any compromise on the part of the United States practically was unnecessary.

In effect, it was said, the German memorandum contains a paraphrase of President Wilson's declaration in his last Lusitania note that however justifiable the sinking of the Lusitania might be as an act of reprisal against an alleged illegal act of an enemy it was not justifiable where it endangered the rights of neutrals.

By United Press. Washington, February 7.—Whether this government shall compromise to meet compromise in the Lusitania case was to be decided today at the White House conference between President Wilson and Secretary Lansing.

Germany, according to information from her representatives here, has conceded several facts. This is considered a big factor in reaching a satisfactory adjustment of the case.

Secretary Lansing has said, "The American attitude regarding the Lusitania sinking remains unchanged." In view of this seeming deadlock it was believed that the gravity of the situation has not been lessened.

There was one apparent loophole through which a settlement could be drawn. President Wilson has made it plain it is the future and not the past which he considers the most important.

TAGGART SEES NEED OF GREATER NATIONAL DEFENSE

Indiana Democratic Committeeman Attends Meeting to Arrange for National Convention.

By United Press. St. Louis, February 7.—The committee on arrangements for the National Democratic Convention to be held here in June met today. A campaign to have Senator Stone of Missouri named as temporary chairman of the convention was launched today.

Thomas Taggart, national democratic committeeman from Indiana, was an early arrival. Taggart commenting on the news dispatch that President Wilson will try to have his preparedness program adopted within the next thirty days said, "It can't be done too soon."

CAUSES AND CURES OF CHILD POVERTY TO BE INVESTIGATED

Judge Henry Neil, "Father of Mothers' Pensions" Asks Appointment of Commission.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 7—Judge Henry Neil who has toured Indiana several times as "the father of mothers' pensions" obtained a place in the spotlight at Washington today, according to dispatches from the capital. He is said to have aided Congressman Keating in preparing a resolution demanding an investigation by a commission into the causes and cures of child poverty. Keating was reported as introducing his resolution today.

Judge Neil is quoted as favoring the resolution on the grounds that it would be the best basis for national preparedness. He asserts that thousands of children are suffering from slow starvation and that they will grow to be men unfit to fight the enemy. "Feed all the children," is Neil's slogan.

Neil visited many cities in Indiana prior to the 1915 session of the Indiana legislature. He urged a mothers' pension law. He attended the legislature but was not favorably received.

ONE SPOONFUL GIVES ASTONISHING RESULTS

Seymour residents are astonished at the QUICK results from the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka. ## WET AND DRY FIGHT TO BE REVIVED AT GREENSBURG

City Has Been Dry Since 1914 and Mayor Mendenhall is Now Facing Charge of Liquor Violation.

By United Press.

Greensburg, Ind., February 7—Greensburg will hold a local option election between February 22 and March 3. This city is now dry, but it is charged that it is infested with "blind tigers." Mayor Mendenhall is under charges of non-enforcement of the liquor laws and is charged with having himself bought liquor at a "blind tiger." His friends said today his case would never go to trial. It has been continued to the next term of court.

When Greensburg voted dry in 1914 it had eight saloons and two wholesale liquor houses.

SUIT FILED TO SET ASIDE WILL OF JOHN OVERWESTER

Mrs. Amelia Steinker Brings Action in Bartholomew Circuit Court Alleging Undue Influence.

Concerning the attempt to break the will of the late John Overwester, of Bartholomew county, the Columbus Republican says:

Because she objects to the terms of the will of the late John Overwester, which was admitted to probate more than a year ago, Mrs. Amelia Steinker has brought suit in the Circuit Court to have the will set aside. Undue influence is alleged in the complaint filed by Kollmeyer & Sharpnack. The defendants named are Louise M. Overwester, Emma Schlehauser, William H. Miller, George W. Miller, Henry H. Miller, Charles J. Miller, Clara Steinker and Lewis Bowen, the latter being executor of the estate.

It is claimed that the will of the late Mr. Overwester provided cash payments as follows: To William H. Miller, $200; to Henry H. Miller, $400; to George W. Miller, $200 and to Charles J. Miller, $400. The widow, Louise M. Overwester, was to receive $500 in cash and a life interest in 40 acres of land. After the payment of the legacies mentioned, Emma Schlehauser was to receive one-half of the balance of the estate and the plaintiff, Mrs. Steinker, was to receive the other half.

However, Mrs. Steinker was not to receive this in fee simple.

The will provided that she was to have her share placed in trust and that the trustee should pay her $25 semi-annually until she is 40 years old. From then until she is 50 years old she is to be paid $50 semi-annually. When she arrives at the age of 50 years she is to be given what remains of her share.

Mrs. Steinker objects to these provisions and asks that the court set aside the will.

The Silent Company

If once the dead could speak! ... If they who went Gurgling beneath the brine and moved no more; If they who through the vapors born of hell Battled for breath and sank in tumbled heaps; If they who knew the sudden stab like fire And screamed aloud and into silence passed; If they who through the ache of thunderous hours Moaned thinly for the end, yet in the dust And smoke of engines vomiting black death Still lay neglected by their very God; If they who in the glad line suddenly saw Their goodly bodies stricken and the gush Of widening red that brought the message home; If they who in the ghostly aisles of white Went out like lamps beneath the balm of sleep; If they who writhed on trench floors black with blood, Or whimpered in the tents of cotted woe, Or raved thirst harried in the falling rain, If they who gave abruptly all the surge Of warmth and slinging hope that made them men And now sleep still as sand beneath the flow Of rivers, not of water, but of blood— If they could speak I wonder then if war Confronted by the legions of the dead, Could dare to answer when God questioned, Why? —Arthur Stringer in McClure's Magazine

YES, S. S. S. IS PURELY VEGETABLE. NATURE'S SAFE BLOOD TREATMENT

Known for 50 Years as the Best Remedy for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases.

Scientists have discovered that the forest and field are abundantly supplied with vegetation of various kinds, that furnish the ingredients for making a remedy, for practically every ill and ailment of mankind. Medicines made from roots, herbs and barks which Nature has placed at the disposal of man, are better than strong mineral mixtures and concoctions. Mineral medicines work dangerously on the delicate parts of the system, especially the stomach and bowels, by eating out the lining membrane, producing chronic dyspepsia and often entirely ruining the health. S. S. S. is guaranteed to be a purely vegetable remedy. It is made entirely of gentle-acting, healing, purifying roots, herbs and barks, possessing properties that build up all parts of the system, in addition to removing all impurities and poisons from the blood. S. S. S. is a safe treatment for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all disorders of the blood. It cleanses the entire system and it's permanent. Get S. S. S. at any drug store. S. S. S. is a standard remedy recognized everywhere as the greatest blood antiseptic ever discovered. If yours is a peculiar case, write to Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

COMING BACK

UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALIST WILL AGAIN BE AT SEYMOUR, IND.

COMMERCIAL HOTEL

Friday, Feb. 11th

ONE DAY ONLY

Hours 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Offer Services Free of Charge.

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Indiana for the treatment of all diseases including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days. According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever set at rest in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call, it costs you nothing.

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

Married ladies come with their husbands and minors with their parents. Laboratories, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The Richmond Speech.

Wayne County was awarded the prize banner which had been offered to the county making the largest contribution for the relief of the sick and wounded soldiers in 1864. In presenting the banner at a public meeting in Richmond in September 1865, Governor Morton spoke at length on the question of reconstruction. He then decried the radical theory which looked upon the Southern States as conquered territory and upheld Johnson in attempting to carry out Lincoln's conciliatory policy. He also spoke strongly in opposition to Negro-suffrage. The speech greatly displeased the radical Republicans.

THE FLAG.

The following is the beautiful tribute to the American flag paid by President McKinley:

"Is it any wonder that the old soldier loves the old flag under whose folds he fought and for which his comrades shed so much blood? He loved it for what it is and for what it represents. It embodies the purpose and history of the government itself. It records the achievements of its defenders upon land and sea. It heralds the heroism and sacrifices of our revolutionary fathers who planted free government on this continent and dedicated it to liberty forever. It attests the struggles of our army and the valor of our citizens in all the wars of the Republic. It has been sanctified by the blood of our best and bravest. It records the achievements of Washington and the martyrdom of Lincoln. It has been bathed in the tears of sorrowing people. It has been glorified in the hearts of a freedom-loving people, not only at home but in every part of the world. Our flag expresses more than any other flag; it means more than any other national emblem. It expresses the will of a free people, proclaims that they are supreme and that they acknowledge no earthly sovereign but themselves. It never was assaulted that thousands did not rise up to smite the assailant. Glorious old banner!"

Drug Prices Soaring.

Because of the European war and the attending difficulties in making shipments of many drugs prices have advanced rapidly during the last few months. An instance of this is demonstrated in the forced increased price of Rexall Orderlies which becomes effective February 10. Concerning the advance the Carter Drug Store has received the following letter from the United Drug Company:

"This is to inform you that we are forced to increase the cost of Rexall Orderlies to you. The cost of raw materials entering into this preparation have increased about three times their normal price, and as is the policy of the United Drug Co. in all its preparations, it will not change a preparation in quality or quantity.

"Rexall Orderlies contain ingredients which are in a class by themselves, and we do not feel that there is any substitute which has the same value in the preparation for the purpose for which they are intended. We believe it to be the best laxative, and the only laxative of its kind in the world. The increased prices are upheld only because of emergency, and will be changed as soon as possible.

The 10c package should now be 15c. The 25c package, now 40c.

Peace—1916 Model

Look! When ye build a shrine to me— That peace toward which ye dream Making fond foolish offering to my name— Put no sweet statue of a meek faced saint, With trailing garments and with waving branch To decorate a ponderous facade, But 'neath its pillars.

Staggering with a weight undreamed, Place me a warrior with blunted sword, Who hacked a fervent way Through flesh and bone to righteousness! Him, in whose drumming heart The hot blood rushed; Him, in whose famished lungs The hot breath strove; Who, not content to dream Of peace through languorous days, Or prate her speech Of big mouthed words, Flung to the fight his all. His battered body gave To guard the hell rent ramparts Where he fell!

11,300,000,000 STAMPS LICKED IN ONE YEAR.

Postoffice Also Used Enough String to Encircle Globe Three Times.

The annual report of Mr. James A. Edgerton of New Jersey, purchasing agent of the postoffice department, showing that the adoption of up to date business methods in purchasing postal supplies saved the government approximately $1,000,000 during the last fiscal year, was made public by Mr. Edgerton the other day. It points out that although the prices on many supplies were very high on account of the war, a policy of early advertising and of securing the widest possible competition enabled the department to make this large saving.

Postmaster General Burleson in his annual report for the postal service for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1915, paid the following compliment to the work of the purchasing agent:

The purchasing agent, who has supervision of the purchase of the vast quantity of supplies used in the postoffice department and the postal service, deserves great credit and cannot be too highly commended for the improved business methods which have resulted in the saving of such a large amount of the public money.

The magnitude of the business transacted by Mr. Edgerton's office, as shown by his report, is apparent from the following purchases made during the fiscal year in question:

Fifty-four carloads, an entire train, of facing slips. These slips are 3 1/4 by 5 inches in size, cut from manilla paper and are used as labels by clerks in postoffices and the railway mail service.

For tying packages of letters in the 44,000 postoffices throughout the United States and on every railway mail car 1,612,000 pounds of twine were purchased, measuring 1,450,800,000 yards, a sufficient length to encircle the globe more than three times.

Two hundred carloads of cardboard, out of which 1,015,850,000 postal cards were manufactured.

Eleven billion three hundred million postage stamps of different denominations were purchased and distributed to the postoffices throughout the country during the year.

Five hundred thousand canvas mail sacks, each with an average capacity of two and one-half bushels.

Forty-five thousand quarts of writing fluid and 30,000 pounds of canceling ink, a quantity sufficient to convert an ordinary lake into a Black Sea.

Eight hundred and twenty-five thousand pounds of paper, different grades, enough to cover the surface of an entire state.

Eighty-five million tags, a number adequate to tag every person in the United States.

In addition to the above, there were purchased 600 typewriting machines, 65,000 dozen lead pencils, 300,000 dozen steel pens, 20,000 typewriter ribbons, 150,000 rubber and steel stamps and a thousand other articles, including letter boxes, scales, baskets, blank books, canceling machines, maps, carriers' satchels, motor vehicles, leather, iron, brass, copper, hardware, flags, packing boxes, duplicating machines, penholders, files and binders.

USING PASTEBOARD MONEY.

French Cities Held by the Enemy Make Substitutes For Cash.

Pasteboard sous and pieces representing denominations up to 5 francs are being used in some of the occupied French cities, owing to the scarcity of small change. The pasteboards are of different colors and shapes—square, round, octagonal, oval and diamond shaped.

At Roubaix, Tourcoing, Roney and Croix the money is guaranteed by the municipality and good only for use in transactions with merchants of the town where the money is issued. At Lille the pasteboard sous were issued by the Bank of Lille.

The city of Valenciennes issues a new denomination of small change in the form of a four sous piece (20 centimes), guaranteed by the communes of the arrondissement and redeemable four months after the conclusion of peace.

Sees Vegetation on Mars.

Five canal-like rifts in the north polar cap of Mars have been discovered by astronomers at Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz. The most conspicuous of these lies along the course of the known canal Cadmus. The rifts show the effect of vegetation coming through the snow.

Grinding Coffee to Decide Bet. Grinding coffee ten hours a day for four days was the task of a Michigan nan to win a $25 bet.

ANOTHER STRONG INDORSEMENT OF JAMES P. GOODRICH.

Employees of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company (of Indiana) have issued the following letter:

Peru, Indiana, Dec. 1, 1915.

Dear Sir: We are trying to reach the railroad men of Indiana to tell them we were employees of the old C. C. & L. Railway at the time its affairs reached such a condition that a receivership became necessary, and the court appointed Mr. James P. Goodrich, of Winchester, as receiver.

When he took charge of the line in the early part of 1908 he found in addition to the property needing a general rehabilitation, the wages of several classes of skilled labor, among them being train and enginemen, to be far below the rate paid by other lines, and after a thorough investigation of our wage rate, he advanced our pay and gave us improved working conditions, (the latter also meaning increased pay) to compare favorably with the rates and conditions of other lines.

The short period in which he wrested the company from financial distress and set it on the way to its present high prosperity in the face of the most decidedly adverse conditions, bespeaks his ready resourcefulness and keen business acumen.

In our dealings with Mr. Goodrich, it is a fact that no man or committee of men that we know of, ever failed to get a hearing before him, and if there were any wrongs shown they were speedily and cheerfully righted. He was at all times easily approached, fair and just, and now when his name is before the people we would be ungrateful indeed if we did not present the above facts, and say that he has our entire endorsement.

Very respectfully,

No other candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor has been more generally or more favorably indorsed by the FARMERS, BUSINESS MEN, EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYES generally than Mr. Goodrich.

It is a significant fact that fully seventy-five per cent of the editors of the Republican and Independent papers in Indiana have endorsed Mr. Goodrich for Governor.

These men were in close touch with Mr. Goodrich during the ten years he was State Chairman. They have known him intimately as National Committeeman.

They are for him because they know that his experience in public life added to his fine ability as a business man and his natural resourcefulness as a leader in political campaigns make him not only THE IDEAL but THE LOGICAL CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR IN 1916.

The State of Indiana needs a HIGH-GRADE, HONEST, EFFICIENT, EXPERIENCED MAN LIKE MR. GOODRICH for Governor, who is familiar with its needs and problems.

The Republican party needs a STRONG RESOURCEFUL LEADER like MR. GOODRICH to organize its forces for the November election.

Remember the date of the primary—MARCH 7.

And remember—

the man for the nomination for Governor is JAMES P. GOODRICH.

That Boy

You've got to have faith in that boy And to show him the faith that you feel; That you know beneath all his alloy Is the metal that's honest and real. You've got to let him trust in you As you trust in him day by day; You've got to have faith in that boy If you want him to go the right way.

You hear them cry out now and then That their boy won't amount to a thing And he won't—in this wide world of men You've got to give faith the right ring; You've got to make him feel that you Feel firmly and truly his worth; That you know he will put things right through; That he showed the right will at his birth.

You can't trust a boy to do right If you don't let him see that you trust; You can't be to him like a light If you hide all your faith in the dust. He needs such a faith as will shine, As will show and make plain o'er his path That he'll win; that he's starting out fine; That he'll triumph o'er evil and wrath. —Baltimore Sun.

MORGAN GOES ABROAD TO ARRANGE A FRENCH LOAN

Wall Street Thinks That Bonds Will Be Sold In This Country.

The purpose of J. P. Morgan's departure for Europe is the negotiation of a new French loan of between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000, based on the sale of French government bonds.

Mr. Morgan was accompanied by John F. Harris of the Stock Exchange firm of Harris Winthrop & Co. Another visitor to Europe is Benjamin Strong, Jr., governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. It is said that the two financiers do not have a common mission, but that Mr. Strong is going abroad to look over the ground for the possible establishment of branches of the Federal Reserve bank in Europe and to familiarize himself with the financial situation with a view of extending further credits to Great Britain.

Wall street is inclined to discredit the firm's explanation of Mr. Morgan's trip that he was going primarily for a rest and for the sake of his health. His sailing for Europe at a time when heavy gales add to the dangers from submarine and floating mines convinced financiers that the situation abroad presented problems that demanded the presence of the head of America's biggest banking house.

The proposed loan was understood to be an offering of French government bonds in this country rather than a credit based on a purely banking arrangement. The bonds will run from three to five years. What interest rate the French bonds will bear is not known, but it is believed that the interest will be higher than the 5 per cent return on the Anglo-French bonds.

These bonds will not only have the credit of the French government back of them, but will be secured by collateral, part of which may be American railroad securities of high grade. The loan will not be assailable by those who criticised the Anglo-French loan on the ground that it had back of it no other security than the credit of Great Britain and France. Part of the collateral offered by the French government as security for the loan may be the securities of other European governments, of which France holds large amounts.

France and French bankers have already borrowed about $120,000,000 in this country in addition to France's share of the Anglo-French loan, which is understood to be $250,000,000. In most cases, however, the financing was purely of a banking nature in that no bonds were offered for sale.

PENSIONS OF $1,200,000.

Yearly Amount Paid to Retired Ministers and Widows and Orphans. The Methodist church paid $1,200,000 in pensions to retired ministers and widows and orphans of ministers during 1915, according to the annual report of Dr. Joseph B. Hingeley, secretary of the board of conference claimants, submitted at the annual meeting of the board in Chicago.

Fifteen million dollars is needed for the pension fund, Dr. Hingeley's report said, and of this amount $6,000,000 is now in the treasury of the conference.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Henry Rebber is at home from Sellersburg, where she has been for treatment at the sanitarium.

E. A. Remy, who recently underwent an operation at the Schneck Memorial Hospital, is resting as well as could be expected today.

William Hamblin, formerly an employe of the St. John saw mill here, was buried today at Edinburg. He died Saturday morning at his home there following a long illness of cancer. He had a number of relatives living in Seymour.

J. C. Hagerty, General Agent for the B. & O. S-W. railroad, was in Seymour today on business, and made the Republican a friendly call. Mr. Hagerty is well known in Seymour where he resided for many years.

Rev. W. L. Collins, of Indianapolis, one of the strongest ministers in the brotherhood of the Christian churches, spoke Sunday both morning and evening at the Central Christian church. Mr. Collins is a forceful speaker and his addresses were both enjoyed by the local congregation.

H. H. Carter, proprietor of the Carter Drug Store, is making use of the telephone to notify the people of the city regarding a One-Cent Sale which he will hold the latter part of this week. A special phone was installed in the window and Miss Monta Reed was employed to call every home in the city and briefly tell of the sale.

L. G. Rothschild, of Indianapolis, was in Seymour and Brownstown today in the interest of the candidacy of Warren T. McCray for the Republican nomination for Governor. Mr. Rothschild says it is surprising how rapidly the business men are taking up the candidacy of Mr. McCray. He thinks there is no doubt about McCray's nomination at the primary convention next month.

LIFE DEPENDS ON BIRDS.

Destroy Them, Says Davey, and There Will Come an Awful Horror.

Do you want to know what the one thing is that can be worse than the European war? John Davey, big brother to the birds and tree physician. Kent's (O.) arbiter of lawn and stream. Has found out what it is.

Mr. Davey told an audience at a New York Y. M. C. A.:

"Human life depends upon vegetation. We would all starve if vegetation ceased for a year. But vegetation depends upon the birds, who protect it from destruction by insects.

"Human life therefore depends upon the birds. All insectivorous birds in this country are decreasing 10 per cent each year. Unless we start at once to increase their numbers, to protect them and kill their enemies, within a decade will occur the disaster to humanity which I have spoken of—a catastrophic horror more awful than the European war."

Decrease in the insectivorous birds, said Mr. Davey, is due to destruction of forests, depriving birds of retreats from storms and cold and the enmity of the English sparrows, which, he said, increase almost as fast as the ton measured progeny of the cankerworm.

TO EXCEL THE FOKKERS.

American Airship Now Being Built Will Be Six Times as Large.

G. Douglas Wardrop, editor of the Aerial Age, member of the Aero Club of America and American Society of Aeronautic Engineers, told the cadets and instructors at West Point that the United States is developing a machine of the air that will be more powerful than the Fokker machine recently built in Germany.

"We are developing a machine that will represent the greatest achievement of men in aerial transportation," said Mr. Wardrop. "It will be six times larger than any yet tried. It will carry enough fuel to give it a cruising range of 600 miles at seventy-five miles an hour. It will be propelled by seven motors, six of 160 horsepower and one of forty."

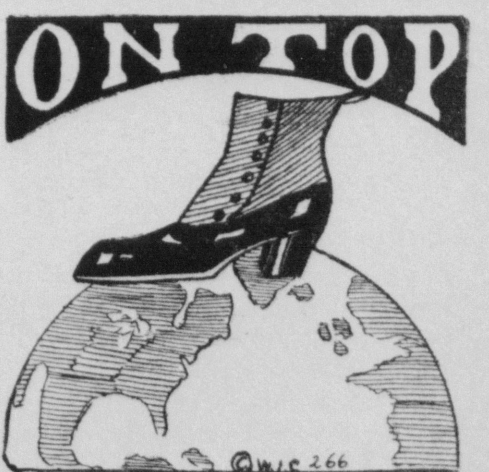

"The machine will carry eight passengers and possibly thirty with the decrease of a cargo of explosives. It can carry more than ten tons. It will carry a new gun which has no recoil and which will throw a three and one-half inch shell. This is achieved by having a double shot with a single explosion. One load will go in one direction—the shell; the other of sand will go in the opposite direction, neutralizing the recoil."

TEUTONS LOSE 14,900 TROOPS

and Disarmed.

NEWACTIVITYONWESTFRONT

Adds Weight to Prophecies of Forthcoming Drive In Artois Sector In Effort to Reach Calais—British Occupy Mine Craters.

London, Feb. 7.—The Franco-British campaign in the Kamerun, a German protectorate in western equatorial Africa, reached a triumphant conclusion when 900 Germans and 14,000 colonial troops crossed into Spanish Guinea and were disarmed and interned.

This blow to German arms represents one of the greatest single strokes
for the allies since the war began.
It is hailed with enthusiasm here because the Germans, interned in Spanish Guinea, are rendered as harmless
as if they had surrendered.

The following official statement
comes from Madrid and is as follows:
"Nine hundred German Europeans and 14,000 German native troops have crossed the border into Spanish Guinea, where they have been interned."

A centering of activity on the west, on the Belgian and Artois fronts, is noticeable in the official statements,
thus adding weight to the prophecies
of a forthcoming German drive in this sector in another effort to reach Calais. The British and French artillery is very active in this region, apparently for the purpose of hindering
the German preparations for the great drive.

The Germans have displayed great activity in the use of mines recently
along the northern part of the battle line. British forces occupied the western sides of three mine craters
near the Vermelles-La-Bassee road
and early in the morning occupied an edge of the crater formed by the explosion of a German mine north of Loos.

The Germans bombarded Ypres.
There was artillery activity about
about Frise to the north of La Bassee canal, and about Wytschaete and Ypres, while the allied guns did severe damage to the German organizations
before Boesinghe.

The situation in Albania is unchanged, according to a report from Rome. A squad of Austrian cavalry has occupied Kroja, about twelve miles northeast of Durrazo, while Bulgarian irregulars are nearing Elbasan,
but the Italians and the troops of Essad Pasha have as yet not come in contact with the invaders.

Meanwhile, fierce, merciless fighting
is going on in the interior of Albania
between Christian and Moslem Albanian tribesmen, and armed bands
have been recruited by the Bulgarians
and financed by the Austrians and Germans.

The Austrian and Bulgarian officers
are systematically organizing massacres, it is declared at Rome, applying the experience acquired by them in the invasion of Serbia, which they boast, is now practically depopulated.

JURY ACQUITS CONVICT

Case Involved Osborne and Welfare League at Sing Sing.

White Plains, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Because a jury in the supreme court
here acquitted Nathan Kaplan, alias Kid the Dropper, a Sing Sing convict,
of a serious charge made by James Harvey, another convict, it was rumored that the twenty-one other inmates indicted by the Westchester grand jury on the testimony of Harvey
may not be tried for some time, perhaps not at all. Kaplan's trial was considered a test case as it was believed much testimony which he brought out which would involve former Warden Osborne and the Mutual Welfare league.

Kaplan contended all along that he was not guilty, but was the victim of a frame-up on the part of several convicts who were enemies of the warden.

CANADA TAKES PRECAUTION

Special Guards Protect Munition

Port Colborn, Ont., Feb. 7.—Extra sentries were placed on all public buildings here, following the Dominion-wide order to use extra precaution
in the way of guarding property.

The guard over the government elevators also has been re-enforced as well as that over the Maple Leaf company's flour mills. The Welland canal and bridges are being guarded day
and night.

Enlistment has been active here
since the burning of the parliament buildings at Ottawa.

May Force German Course.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 7.—The supreme court of Nebraska held that whenever fifty patrons of a school district petitioned for a course in German above
the fourth grade, the school board has no other alternative but to grant the petition. The suit was brought to test a law which prohibited the teaching of a foreign language in public grammar schools.

WORLD'S BIGGEST TELESCOPE

Monster Tube to Be Taken Up Mt.
Wilson, in California.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—Preparations were made to freight up the steep trails of Mt. Wilson a huge section telescope tube which, with the largest lens in the world, will be installed at Carnegie Solar observatory.

The tube, in four sections, arrived
here from New York aboard a steamer
which traveled around Cape Horn.
The sections of tube, which with their cases, weigh 47,250 pounds, were refused by railroads for shipment because they were too wide for flat cars
and too high to go through some transcontinental tunnels. Work on the lens, which weighs four and a half tons, has been in progress several years. It will be completed early next year.

MUNCIE CITIZENS RAID BLIND TIGERS

Break Down Doors to Get Into Hidden Saloon.

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 7.—Led by Sheriff Albert O'Hara, a number of citizens, sworn in as deputy sheriffs,
raided two uptown "blind tigers" and confiscated a quantity of liquor.

In the basement a cafe owned by Joe Long the deputy sheriffs found a regular saloon. Everything was in the place that goes to make up a saloon,
with the exception of a bar-tender,
and he is said to have "made
his getaway" just before the sheriff's force entered the place.

Across the street the special officers entered the cellar beneath a "tiger" said to be operated by George Perdue. They were compelled to break down three doors before gaining entrance to a compartment that contained more than a dozen casks of whiskey and scores of empty bottles.

Sheriff O'Hara declared that charges
will be filed in the circuit court
against the alleged owners of the two places.

Harry Baur, said to be the owner of the "tiger" beneath Long's cafe, appeared at the police station and was served with a "blind tiger" warrant.
He gave bond.

This step was taken, it is said, to prevent Baur's prosecution in the circuit court before Judge Ellis. It has been the custom of Judge Gregory in the city court to fine "blind tiger"
operators and suspend all jail sentences.

ITALIAN VESSELS TO ARM

Will Defend Themselves Against Attacks From Submarines.

New York, Feb. 7.—The Italian
steamship Stampalia, of the La Velose
line, in from the Mediterranean, carries on her after deck, mounted and ready for business, two quick firing Armstrong guns for use in case of submarine attack. Nearly all the other passenger carriers of the several Italian lines will be similarly equipped within a month or so.

The United States sanctions the armament for defensive purposes
only. So far none of the armed Italian ships has encountered submarines.
The Stampalia saw none in the Mediterranean nor the Atlantic.

PEACE EFFORT IN GERMANY

Willing to Relinquish Territorial Acquisition In Settlement.

Paris, Feb. 7.—The Journal's Geneva correspondent says:
"German finance is exercising
stronger and stronger pressure upon
the imperial government for peace
through the presentiment of a formidable economic crisis."

The leaders of finance insist that Germany will relinquish the idea of territorial acquisition and the acceptance of the status quo, except for an autonomy in Russian Poland under some form of German suzerainty. This campaign of German finance is finding powerful support, even in the imperial chancellery.

SETTLEMENT IN LUSITANIA CASE

Predicted Berlin's Latest Note
Is Satisfactory.

STATEMENT EXPECTED SOON

All Prospects of a Rupture With Germany Have Been Removed For the Present, Is Belief Among Officials
at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Berlin's latest memorandum on the Lusitania controversy can be made the basis of an amicable settlement, according to information which came from a high administration source.

Whether the final agreement can take the exact form of the Berlin
memorandum remains to be determined at the conference which the president and Secretary Lansing are expected to hold.

At all events the communication
which Ambassador Bernstorff handed to the secretary has improved the outlook. This information coming from an unquestioned source, confirms an impression which has steady-
ly grown in the last twenty-four hours
that all prospects of a rupture in the relations between the two governments have been removed for the present.

So optimistic are certain officials
that they expect an announcement
from the state department within the next two or three days which will remove all apprehension as to a break.

It is understood that the president and Secretary Lansing will have met and made up their minds definitely before the cabinet meets on Tuesday.

The only point now at issue rests
on the acceptability of the eight words used by the Berlin foreign office to avoid the expression "illegal." The United States wanted Germany to say that she would pay indemnity because the attack on the Lusitania, resulting in the killing of 115 Americans, was illegal. Germany has offered instead to say that she will pay indemnity because, inasmuch as Americans were on the vessel, the attack should not have been made.

In German circles it was said that but for the interview given out in Berlin by Secretary of Foreign Af-airs Zimmerman, calling attention to the refusal of Germany to employ the word illegal the American public might never have noted the omission, so close does the expression actually
used correspond with "illegal."

Count von Bernstorff, according to his friends, is more than ever confident that Germany's proposals are going to be accepted by the United States. Anticipating that the American government would accept the final
proposals of Berlin in their entirety,
it is said that the ambassador before going to the state department drew
them up in the shape of a formal note. In this form they are now before the president. Should he accept the terms set forth in the communication, officials say, this note could be published as Germany's reply to the American note of July 21, the last formal communication from Washington to Berlin.

If, however, the president insists on any slight modification, it is probable that the ambassador will have to communicate with his government.

28 PURDUE SCHOLARSHIPS

County Plans to Send Big Number to Short Course.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 7.—County Agricultural Agent I. B. Johnson and County Superintendent Samuel Sharp
have outlined a plan by which Bartholomew county will send twenty-eight school children, fourteen boys
and fourteen girls, to the Purdue university short course next winter,
something no other county in the state
has done.

The plan was explained to the teachers of the county at an institute
held here and was indorsed by the institute. The plan is to hold short course contests in each of the fourteen townships of the county, which will insure a short course scholarship
with all expenses paid to a girl and a boy of each township.

Snow Causes Rail Sheds to Collapse.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 7.—Under the weight of accumulated snow the passenger train sheds of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway collapsed
and fell here for a distance of over 200 feet. Two persons were injured.

Rubber Tire Workers Quit.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 7.—Twenty-five tire builders of the Indiana Rubber and Wire company of Jonesboro have struck because of a cut from 25 to 50 cents on tires.

British Casualty List.

London, Feb. 7.—The official British casualty list contains the names of forty officers, of whom fifteen were killed, and of 1,479 men, of whom 459
were killed.

Rochester Hotel Burns.

Rochester, Ind., Feb. 7.—The Cottage hotel here, erected in 1846, was damaged by fire with a loss of $3,000.
Several guests had narrow escapes.

WABASH SWITCHMEN STRIKE

Two Hundred Employed in Chicago
Yards Quit Work.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Two hundred
switchmen employed in the Chicago yards of the Wabash railroad went on strike here. They are members of the Switchmen's Union of North America, said to be a new organization.

The strike was ordered at St. Louis to enforce recognition of the union.
Henry Eickie, superintendent of the Chicago division of the railroad, said that the fight was between the new organization and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. He said the brotherhood is standing by its agreement with the road and will furnish switchmen. Mr. Eickie said trains were not being delayed.

POLICE GUARD BRIDGES TO PROTECT WARSHIP

Admiral Usher Fears Bombs
May Wrack Cruiser.

New York, Feb. 7.—At the request
of Rear Admiral Usher, commandant
of the Brooklyn navy yard, special detachments of police were assigned to the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges
at the time of the arrival of the United States armored cruiser Washington. This was done, it was said,
to prevent the dropping of bombs upon the warship as she steamed up the East river.

The Washington, coming from Hayti slipped up the East river shortly before noon and docked at the navy yard.

Fourteen police of the Sands street station, Brooklyn, were detailed to take up vigilant stations on the bridges, five of them going to the Manhattan bridge and nine to the Brooklyn bridge. This force was in addition to the regular patrolmen on duty there. It was the first time such an order had been issued by police headquarters in Manhattan as was in this case.

The report of the reason for Admiral Usher's request, however, was viewed as more than ordinarily significant, especially in view of the recent explosion in the submarine E-2
at the navy yard and the unusual watching of subway entrances by the New York police.

Captain Benton Decker of the Washington said that he knew nothing about the careful watching over
the ship as she came into the yard,
and all officers of the navy yard aided
and abetted in keeping the circumstances a mystery.

DENY SEEKING BOMB PLOT

New York Police Declare Subway
Guards Was Dragnet For Thieves.

New York, Feb. 7.—Police officials were unanimous in denying that the unusual stationing of uniformed patrolmen at subway and tube entrances
all over the city, had anything to do with bomb plotting. It was a dragnet
for thieves, was the police explanation. Word got around that they were there to search all packages carried
by passengers as a preventive measure against bomb outrages, either feared or directly warned against.

The order resulted in many bundles of persons being stopped during the watches and asked where they were coming from, where they were going and what they had in the packages they were carrying. In some cases the packages were searched,
but in many others they were not.

A mysterious alarm in the subway,
from the Grand Central station, shut off south of Ninety-sixth street and sent the trouble crews of the system,
already alarmed by reports of bomb
plots, in a search that brought no results. After ten minutes power was restored.

CANTRELL SENT TO PRISON

Former "King of the Ghoul's" Charged With Larceny.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 7.—Rufus W.
Cantrell, "king of the ghoul's," and Eldridge Gowdy, his first lieutenant,
convicted of larceny, were sentenced to two years each in Marquette penitentiary.

Cantrell, who was married here a few weeks ago while conducting services in the Gospel Praise mission, is alleged to have preached as a cloak
for his thefts. It was brought out that Gowdy would "frisk" the pockets of men and women while they were on their knees listening to Cantrell pray.
Everytime the "minister" made a social call he would leave with the cash
and silverware, it was testified.
Cantrell operated around Indianapolis sixteen years ago as a grave robber where he got his "king of ghoul's"
title.

Ship Damaged by Hurricane.

London, Feb. 7.—The Norwegian
steamship Pythia arrived at Plymouth
from New York after passing through a hurricane. The vessel lost two life-boats and sustained other damage.

Prisoner Held For Shooting.

Liberty, Ind., Feb. 7.—M. A. Hop-pas, twenty-six years old, station agent
for the C. & O. railroad at Cottage Grove, was brought here and placed in jail, charged with shooting Bennett Weatherby, thirty-five years old, a car repairer, in an altercation on the station platform at Cottage Grove.

CHAPTER VI

Gerry stood in the hall outside Alix' room for a moment hoping to hear a sob, a cry, anything for an excuse to go back. Instead he heard the scratch of a pen but he was too troubled to deduce anything from that. He went slowly down the stairs and out into the street. The biting winter air braced him. He started to walk rapidly. At the end of an hour he found himself standing on a deserted pier. He took off his hat and let the wind cool his head. "I have made a woman cry—Alix!" He turned and walked slowly back to the avenue and into his club but he still felt uneasy. A waiter brought a whisky and soda and put it at his elbow. Gerry turned on him. "Who told you to bring that?" Then he felt ashamed of his petulance. "It's all right, George," he said, more gently than he had spoken for many a day, "but I don't want it. Take it away."

He sat for a long time and at last came to a resolution. Alix loved roses. He would send her enough to bank her room and he would follow them home. He went up the avenue to his florist's and stood outside trying to decide whether it should be one mass of blood red or a color scheme. Suddenly the plate glass caught a reflection and threw it in his face. Gerry turned. A four-wheeler was passing. He could not see the occupant but on top was a large, familiar trunk marked with a yellow girdle. On the trunk was a familiar label. He stared at it and the label stared back at him and finally danced before his mazed eyes as the cab disappeared into the traffic.

Gerry stood for a long while, stunned. He saw a lady bow to him from a carriage and afterwards he remembered that he had not bowed back. Somebody ran into him. He looked back at the flowers massed in the window, remembered that he did not need them now, and drew slowly away. Two men hailed him from the other side of the street. Gerry braced himself, nodded to them and hailed a passing hansom. From the direction Alix' cab had taken he knew the station she was bound for. As he arrived on the platform they were giving the last call for the Montreal Express. He caught sight of Alix hurrying through the gates and followed. As she reached the first Pullman, somebody rapped on the window of the drawing room. Gerry saw Alix's face pressed against the pane. He watched Alix stop, turn and climb the steps of the car and then he wheeled and hurried from the station.

Where could he go? Not to his club and Alix's. His face would betray the scandal with which the club would be buzzing tomorrow. Not to his big comfortable house. It would be too gloomy. Even in disaccord, Alix had imparted to its somber oak and deep shadows the glow of buoyant life. When she was there one felt as though there were flowers in the house. Gerry was seized with a great desire to hide from his world, his mother, himself. He pictured the scare-heads in the papers. That the name of Lansing should be found in that galley! It was too much. He could not face it.

He bought a morning paper full of shipping news and, getting into a taxi, gave the address of his bank. On the way he studied the sailings' column. He found what he wanted. The Gunter due to sail that afternoon for Brazil, Pernambuco the first stop.

At the bank Gerry drew out the balance of his current account. It amounted to something over two thousand dollars. He took most of it in Bank of England notes. Then he started home to pack but before he reached the house a vision of the servants, flurried after helping their mistress off, commiserating him to each other, pitying him to his face perhaps, or in the case of the old butler, suppressing a great emotion, was too much for him. He drove instead to a big department store and in an hour had bought a complete outfit. He lunched at one of the quiet restaurants that divide down town from up. The people about him were voluble in French and Spanish. Already he felt as if his exile had begun.

The Gunter was to sail at three from Brooklyn. Gerry crossed by the ferry. He did not get out of his cab. Over his baggage, piled outside and in, he caught a glimpse of the suspension bridge. Years and years ago his father had led him across that bridge when it was the eighth wonder of the world. Gerry gave a great sigh at the memory. He had not invaded Brooklyn since. As the cab threaded the interminable and reeking length of Furman street he looked out and felt himself upon an alien shore.

He had avoided buying a ticket. As the Gunter warped out, the purser came to him. "I understand you have no ticket."

"No," said Gerry, drawing a roll of bills. "How much is the passage to Pernambuco?"

The purser fidgeted. "This is irregular, sir."

"Is it?" said Gerry, indifferently.

"I have no ticket forms," said the purser, weakening.

"I don't want a ticket," said Gerry. "I want a good room and three square meals a day."

Long, quiet days on a quiet sea are a master sedative to a troubled mind. Gerry had a great deal to think through. He sat by the hour with hands loosely clasped, his eyes far out on the ocean, tracing the course of his married life and measuring the grounds for Alix' arraignment. Gerry was just and generous to others' faults but not to his own. He had forgotten the sting of Alix' words and, to his growing amazement, saw in himself their justification. A time-server he certainly had been. But he reviewed the lives of many other men in his own leisurely class and decided that he was not without company. After all, what was there in America for such men to do except make more money?

For the first time he was struck by the narrowness of American life. There was only one line of effort. The whole people thronged a single causeway. They made a provincial demand that all should dress alike, look alike, think alike. They pressed on in a body to the single goal of wealth and when they got there they were lost.

Individualists were rare and unwelcome. Boys stoned Chinamen because they were different; they followed a turbaned Asiatic, strayed to an unfriendly shore, with jeers; an astounded Briton, faultlessly dressed, found his spats the sensation of a street. Each of these incidents Gerry had witnessed with amusement and dismissed without a thought. Now they became so many weather-vanes all pointing the same way. How was it Alan had summed up the history of America? "Men, machinery, machines!"

With the thought of Alan his brow puckered. Here he felt no impulse to indulgence. Some day he would meet Alan and when he did he would break him. The scorn he had expressed to Alix for Alan and Alan's nature was without understanding but it was genuine. He knew there were such men and he ascribed all their acts to a debasement beyond regeneration and none to temperament. From moral laxity there was no appeal beyond the sin itself.

The landfall of Pernambuco awoke him from reveries and introspection. He did not look upon this palm-strewn coast as a land of new beginnings—he sought merely a Lethian shore.

The ship crawled in from an oily sea to the long strip of harbor behind the reef. Above, the sun blazed from a bowl of unbroken blue; on land, the multicolored houses spread like a rainbow under a dark cloud of brown-tiled roofs. Giant plane trees cast blots of shade on the cobbled esplanade of the boat quay. In their shelter a negro squatted behind her basin of cous-cous and another before a tray of fried fish. Around them lounged a ragged crew, boatmen, stevedores and raffia, black, brown and white. Beyond the trees was a line of high stuccoed houses, each painted a different color, all weather-stained, and some with rusted balconies that threatened to topple on to the passer-by. One bore the legend, "Hotel d'Europe." There Gerry installed himself.

GUN WORKS DYNAMITED

Austrian Plant at Skoda Wrecked by Explosion.

Rome, Feb. 7.—The Skoda Gun Works, the Austrian works which are second in importance in Europe only to the Krupp plant at Essen, were partially destroyed by a dynamite explosion. Three factories, including the workshops where the Skoda 12-inch Howitzers are made, were demolished. The number of casualties is variously estimated, one report saying that two hundred workmen were killed, while another says that the killed and injured together numbered 195.

No particulars of the explosion have been received here.

700 BATTLE TO PROTECT LEVEE

Arkansas Flood Engulfs Scores of Towns.

THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS

Sixteen Lives Are Lost and Enormous Property Damage Is Caused by High Water—Clarendon, Ark., Under Six Feet of Water.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 7.—The rapidly widening lake in southeastern Arkansas, formed by the flood waters of the Arkansas river pouring through breaks in the levees, had engulfed a score of towns, leaving several thousand persons homeless.

Sixteen lives have been lost in the last few days and damage that probably will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars has resulted in the rich farming territory.

Still greater damage is feared if the Mississippi continues to rise as in the last few days. Predicted stages at Arkansas City would endanger the levees there and a break in the Mississippi levees and would precipitate a serious situation in the river valley.

All day 700 men who remained in Arkansas City toiled in an effort to strengthen the levees against the fast rising waters, and they were hopeful that the levees would hold and the town be saved. The narrow strip of levee is the only land in sight there. On one side is the river, swollen until its surface is fifteen feet above the level of the town. On the other side of the levee is the great flood lake, nearly forty miles long and twenty miles wide. From it only the upper stories of buildings in Arkansas City protrude. At the levee are three steamboats, one of which is ready to carry the workers to safety should they lose their battle with the flood.

In Clarendon, on the White river, where the levee broke, water is six feet deep in the highest portions of the town. The river had attained a stage of 37.4 feet and still is rising.

A relief train sent out from Little Rock in charge of officials of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railroad was able to proceed southward beyond Grady. From there the workers began carrying food in motor boats to those in need, and taking many marooned families from submerged homes.

Little is known of conditions in the rural districts of the flooded area, but there seems little doubt that many who refused to leave their homes in the face of repeated warnings, have perished.

Alfred J. Henry, in charge of the river and flood division of the United States weather bureau, who is in Little Rock, declared that a condition similar to that which now exists in Arkansas has never before occurred in the history of the weather bureau.

WILSON'S IDEA OF A HERO.

Men Who Risk Lives to Better Conditions Are the Brave Men.

Here is President Wilson's idea of a hero, expressed in a letter from him to Secretary Lane:

"The rescuer of the bureau of mines who braves the poisonous gases and saves a miner from death, the coast guard who at the peril of his own life saves passengers of a helpless vessel from death, the surgeon of the public health service who stops a dreaded scourge in its incipency, the engineer who succeeds in reducing the hazards of industry to its men and the man who brings about better conditions of living among people I consider all types of the hero who will be best regarded in the near future."

FINES IN SIX VOTE CASES

Assault and Battery Charges in Indianapolis Election Cases Settled.

Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—Six men, charged with assault and battery in connection with the 1914 election here, pleaded guilty before Judge William H. Eichhorn of Bluffton, special judge in criminal court, and were fined various sums, the fines and costs in all aggregating $229.

The men who pleaded guilty follow: Wayland Sanders, a police sergeant; Lee Stringer, a patrolman; James Lucas, bailiff of the city court; Hugh "Goosie" Costello, politician; Michael O'Connor, saloon keeper, and Tony Donnelly.

WARN LEAP YEAR GIRLS TO AVOID FLAT HEADED MEN.

Phrenologist Also Tells Them to Carefully Inspect Lips.

To all daughters of Eve who have leap year intentions the vocational guide and well known bachelor, William J. Kibby of Cleveland, O., offers advice concerning the habits, characteristics and dispositions of various sorts of men, which is intended to help the girls win their hearts' desires without suffering rebuff in the process. A good deal of what Kibby says is based upon phrenology.

A man who has thin, straight lips is branded a cold blooded, stony hearted creature, upon whom the dearest girl's appeal would have no effect. This sort of man will do his own proposing, run his own wedding and rule his household, and he'll do it more with his head than his heart. But if the man of your choice has full, well formed lips Kibby says you may depend upon his capacity for and inclination to love. He also is susceptible to the right sort of feminine approach.

Kibby says the way to tell whether the one you love loves you is by the coloring of the under lip when he is with you. Every human emotion gives some physical demonstration when it is aroused. The evidence that love has been aroused is given by the deep crimsoning of the under lip. If his under lip is perpetually pale when he is with you he doesn't love you. If it is crimson and you want him, grab him quick; he won't run.

A man with a broad, square, massive forehead is a good business man. He can plan ahead, has good business judgment. If the crown of his head is high and round he is absolutely conscientious, too, and if the back of his head is well rounded out he will love his home, his wife and his children and show them consideration above everything else in the world. The man whose head is flat on top, flat and almost even with his ears in the back and narrow and foreshortened on the front, whose lips are thin, whose eyes are cold, will not make a good husband in any sense of the word, says Kibby. The longer a man's jawbone the greater his capacity for affection, according to Kibby.

All these things are as applicable to women as to men, in the expert's opinion.

MOVIES NOW AID IN TEACHING OF SURGERY.

All Details and Movements Are Shown Upon the Screen.

Members of the New York County Medical society saw at their meeting the other night a series of moving pictures intended for educational use among doctors and students of surgery. The camera had recorded all the details of a number of intricate operations. The pictures had been taken at a range of only eight feet from the operating table, and each movement of the surgeon was seen more clearly than is possible in a clinic amphitheater, where the seats of the nearest students are fifteen or twenty feet distant from the operating table.

While films of surgical operations had been made before, the new series was distinctive. The accuracy and detail of the pictures, according to the physicians present, had not been equalled in previous views, nor had other operating room pictures been confined so closely to the scientific side of the subject. The new films were described as entirely impersonal, as only the chief surgeon's hands and those of his assistants were seen doing their work, and at no time did the faces or the paraphernalia of the operating room figure in the scene.

Accompanying the pictures were explanations and diagrams to show just what was being done. Dr. J. Bentley Squier, who made the demonstration, tracing each operation from the first incision to the final stitching, explained that the idea in having the films made was that they would afford an opportunity for students of surgery to follow quickly and accurately the new developments in their field; they would be enabled to see, for instance, exactly how a new operation was performed by the man who had originated it in a distant city.

The films are not for public exhibition, but probably will be used in medical colleges and libraries, where it may soon be possible on short notice to have any surgeon or student to call for just the film he needs to teach him the details of an operation he himself must perform without delay.

SILKS GETTING SCARCER; FAMINE IS SEEN HERE.

Shortage of Dye and Cost of Labor Given as Causes.

The silkworm has turned. And the whole world of styles and textiles is on its knees before the royal cocoon. The silk loom worker, once so humble, is demanding the wages of a baseball star or a prima donna. Dye-stuffs of all colors are getting as rare as the rainbow. A worldwide silk famine is threatened. At the present time silk which once retailed at 75 cents a yard now sells for $1, and goods once ticketed at $1.25 now command from $1.50 to $1.75 a yard. Wholesalers see a rise of 30 per cent in silk prices next fall.

Prosperity is at a high mark, and millions of women are financially entitled to revel in silk, and nothing but silk, for gowns, underwear, stockings and nightgowns, it was asserted. With the heaviest demand for silk in years, stocks are dwindling to such an extent that even the greatest wholesalers predict a "hand to mouth" era in supplying the market. The dyestuff shortage comes on top of a dearth in textiles in all corners of the globe.

And then there is a paucity of loom workers, who, it seems, can earn better wages lifting shrapnel shells on flat cars than performing the delicate and skillful operations required on the loom.

"It is most essential that the dye shortage be relieved before we can hope for anything approaching normal in the silk industry," said a dealer who has worked "in silks" for more than forty-eight years. "The public does not realize how serious the dye prob-

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Santanel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

MRS. ELIZABETH MOHR

Wealthy Widow Acquitted of Murdering Her Late Husband.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr was acquitted by a jury in the superior court of a charge of having instigated the murder of her husband, Dr. C. Franklin Mohr. C. Victor Brown and Henry H. Spellman, negroes, who were accused of the actual killing, were found guilty.

Germany has not only quit sending dyes, but has practically quit making them. Its chemists have found that the same elements may be useful in munitions. Imitation rubber for motor trucks is one of the products practically produced from dye materials.

"And in this country dye materials are soaring so high that recently in New York a barrel of red coloring matter which a firm had bought before the war for $100 was taken for $7,000. One manufacturer recently informed a customer that no more orders would be taken for navy blue and Russian green in silks. Other hues are diminishing rapidly."

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."

Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Gossett Store Sold.

George McLaughlin has purchased the tobacco and confectionery store of John Gossett, on North Chestnut street, and is in charge of the business. Mr. Gossett was forced to retire on account of his health. He recently underwent a serious operation in a Missouri hospital and his condition has been such that he could not give his undivided attention to the business. Mr. McLaughlin has been employed at the Hoover Furniture Store for several years and will doubtless build up a profitable business in this long established stand. He has many friends throughout the city who predict for him success in his new venture.

GIRL LEAVES SICKBED TO BEG LOAN TO BURY MOTHER

Far From Friends, She Seeks to Keep Body From Potter's Field.

In Milwaukee, Wis., alone and penniless in a poorly furnished room, Mrs. Maud McGraw fought pneumonia, brought on by lack of proper care.

In Kokomo, Ind., Mildred McGraw, eighteen years old, lay critically ill. So the days slowly passed in pain for the two women in the little rooms so far apart. They could not even comfort each other. And then another day dawned—the girl was a little bit better, but the older woman was dead.

To the sick girl in Kokomo two days later there came a letter with the name of the Milwaukee county coroner's office in the corner.

Her mother was dead, she read. What was almost as great a horror to her, the letter said the body would be buried in the potter's field unless money was provided for funeral expenses.

Mildred didn't cry as much as she wanted to. She didn't have time. She had to force herself out of that sick bed. She had to somehow get to the homes of friends and borrow money to go to Milwaukee. In spite of pain and weakness and sorrow she did those things and arrived there destitute again.

She was told at the morgue that the money to bury her mother must be raised by next day. She knew no one there, so she went to a newspaper office.

"Don't you think there is some one in all this city who will loan me enough money to bury my mother?" she asked after she had told her story. "There must be at least one, if only they can be told. I don't want my mother buried in the potter's field. I've loved her so long! Surely we have suffered enough now. That won't be asked of me, will it?"

"I'll pay the money back. If I was strong enough to work I wouldn't ask a penny, but there is no other way." The girl's appearance—she was thin, pale and haggard—indicated that she is too weak to do any work.

Former Governor Hanly, of Indianapolis, was in the city on business today.
